The Daily Courant.

Wednesday, September 24. 1707.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated Sept. 30.

Grenoble, Sept 18.

THE King has ſent Orders to his Generals to fortify all the Paſſes, by which the Enemy might attempt to break into Dauphine: To which end this Province is to furniſh 7000 Pioneers, in order to perfect that Work before Winter. The Enemies Troops encreaſing about Pignerol, General Medavi is in Motion that Way with a ſtrong Detachment, to obſerve the Enemy, and to cover that Town.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Sept 23.

From the Imperial Camp near Etlingen, Sept. 16. Yeſterday about Noon, the whole Army was drawn up in Order of Battle, in two Lines, and the Artillery was plac'd in the Front. Two Hours after, his Electoral Highneſs arriv'd at Rietbourg, a League from hence, with a numerous Retinue, and a noble Equipage. Our Generals went thither to receive him, and conducted him to Etlingen along the two Lines of our Army, the Artillery and ſmall Arms making 3 Salvoes. General Gronsfeld Entertain'd him ſplendidly at Dinner. In the Evening, General Thungen arriv'd likewiſe at Etlingen, from Philipsbourg. To Day the Elector of Hanover mounted on Horſeback, and came to view the ſituation of our Camp. The Duke of Wirtemberg has ſent us Advice that he will rejoyn us to morrow, with his Detachment from Suabia. The Enemy's Army continues incamp'd in their advantagious Poſt between Raſtad and Rupenheim, on the other ſide of the Murck.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Sept. 27.

From the Imperial Camp near Etlingen, Sept. 19. The 17 h in the Morning, the Generals Thungen and Gronsfeld had a long Conference with the Elector of Hanover, on the preſent Condition of our Army, and concerning the Orders to be obſerv'd in it for the future; after which his Electoral Highneſs took a ſecond View of the Situation of the Camp. The ſame Day came Deputies from ſeveral Princes and States of the Empire, to congratulate his Electoral Highneſs on his happy Arrival, and upon his having taken on him the Command of the Army. The 18 h we receiv'd advice from the Duke of Wirtemberg, that becauſe of ſome Accident that had happen'd, he could not joyn us with his Detachment ſo ſoon by two Days as he intended. We heard likewiſe, that the Enemy continu'd to ſtrengthen the Intrenchments of their Camp between Raſtad and Kupenheim, and that they daily expected the 20 Battallions and 37 Squadrons, that had been detach'd for Provence, from their Armies in Germany and Flanders. The ſame Day the Regiment of Pruſſian Carabineirs of Wartenſleben joyn'd us; as did to Day the Regiment of Dragoons of Wenninger, which belongs to the Troops of the Circle of Weſtphalia: and the Elector of Hanover's Troops are likewiſe daily expected. That Prince is very deſirous to undertake ſomething of Importance againſt the Enemy before the end of the Campaign: but 'tis doubted whether he will be able to do it; becauſe Forrage grows very ſcarce with us, and it wou'd be too dangerous to attack the Enemy in the advantageous Poſt where they now lie.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated Octob. 1.

From the Imperial Camp near Etlingen, Sept. 23. General Mercy is ſent out with a Detachment of 200 Men, Horſe and Foot, and 'tis believ'd he is to march through the Kintzigerdale towards Offenburg, to fall upon a Party of the Enemy, who are poſted there. The 4 Regiments of Franconia, and ſome others, are haſtening their March hither. There is a Talk of laying ſome Bridges over the Rhine, in Order to our paſſing it, and obliging the Marſhal Villars to quit his advantagious Camp of Raſtad.

Francfort, Sept. 25. The Elector of Brunſwick has ſent to deſire the Cities of the Circles to ſend their Deputies to the Army by the 4th of next Month, to confer with his Electoral Highneſs on ſeveral weighty Affairs; particularly how the Winter Quarters for the Troops may beſt be regulated: And alſo to exhort them to get their Quotas of Men and Proviſions of War timely ready for the next Campaign.

Hague, Sept. 30. 'The Duke of Marlborough 'is expected here by the end of next Week. His 'Grace, who is ſaid to be very deſirous that the 'Forces of the Allies ſhould be augmented, will 'find the chief Members of this State perfectly 'well diſpoſed to concur therein. Their Motives 'to it, are, not only certain Advices that the Court 'of France will augment their Forces with 50000 'Men, of which 10000 to be Swiſs; but likewiſe 'the Proſpect of acting offenſively againſt the Ene'my with greater Succeſs. For, they Argue, that 'whatever has been done hitherto, at ſuch a vaſt 'Expence of Money and Blood, will all be fruitleſs, 'unleſs the War be proſecuted with greater Vigour 'than ever. 'Tis ſaid the Duke of Marlborough 'will make a Journey to ſome Courts of Germany, 'before he goes over to England. After all the 'Projects are ſettled for the Number of Forces to 'be employ'd next Year, the Council of State will 'make an Eſtabliſhment accordingly, in Order to 'the ſettling and providing of the neceſſary Funds. We 'hear King Charles III. deſires to have Prince Eu'gene command the Forces of the Allies in Spain; 'and that her Britannick Majeſty and the States con'cur therein with his Catholick Majeſty. Letters 'from Berlin of the 24th of September, adviſe, that 'M. Beſenwalde, Envoy of France to the King 'Sweden, came to Berlin, without concealing his 'Name, and took up his Lodging in a publick Inn; and that after he had ſtaid there 3 Days, he went for Dantzick. Long before any ſuch thing as a Venetian Strop was ever hatcht or thought on, were often publiſh'd the true Original Strops for ſetting Razors, Pen-knives and Lancets to a moſt exquiſite fine Edge, and poliſhing them to an extraordinary Brightneſs, and had not theſe been known to anſwer the juſt Caracter given them through the whole Nation, the Venetian Author had never Aped 'em under a Sham Title, and had the Impudence to impoſe that Name upon thoſe he knows to be the true ones firſt publiſh'd in England; therefore beware of thoſe and other Counterfeits, the True ones being only Sold at John's Coffee-houſe in Sweething's Alley near the Royal Exchange, at 1 s. each, with directions fix'd to 'em, as hath been often mention'd in the Gazette. It is a noble Medicament, far above the Sphere of ignorant Pretenders; and doth that in one Day, which filthy greaſie Oils, or Ointments, could never do. It neither wets like Water, greaſes like Oil, or fouls the fineſt Linnen, but momentarily enters in, and ſuddenly takes away the oldeſt Grief even to aſtoniſhment, after a 1000 other things have been us'd in vain. Sold at John's Coffee-Houſe in Swithins-Alley by the Royal Exchange, and at the 7 Stars under St. Dunſtan's Church in Fleetſtreet, price 2 s. the Viol.

It's ſold only by Mr. Allnutt, Glover, the corner of Popes-Head-Alley againſt the Royal Exchange, and at Mrs. Giles's, Millener and Toyſhop next Hercules-Pillar-Ally by the Temple, at 1 s. each, with printed Directions at large.
